"It just sucks. First and foremost, I hate that for my teammate. It was his first win and he was dominating the race. I was trying to nurse it around. Something in the left-rear was broke and no more than Brett (Griffin, spotter) told me, 'we're having trouble, let's just get off the track,' and I was kind of thinking the same thing. Literally, as he was saying that and I'm thinking it, something broke on the right side and away it went. That sucks. I hate it for him."
